Moscow, Peking Curbing Hanoi?

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence analysts are studying indications that Moscow and Peking may be trying to restrain the Vietnamese Communists from pushing for early military victory in South Vietnam.

A couple of recent reports point in that direction, although the evidence is not conclusive.

One report received through intelligence channels quoted a Viet Cong leader as saying Russia and China were exerting pressure to observe the ceasefire agreement.

According to this account, the VC leader said the Russians and Chinese have indicated they would provide what was described as reconstruction aid only if the level of fighting was kept low.

The VC leader reportedly spoke of such pressure during a meeting at which he warned militant cadres against escalating the fighting to win control of South Vietnam.

Dovetailing with this report was another telling of a communication from Le Duan, a top North Vietnamese leader, to Communists in the South.

U.S. intelligence sources said the gist of the North Vietnamese message to the VC was that they should concentrate in the immediate future on subversion and political tactics aimed at building their strength among the population in "liberated areas" of South Vietnam.

American analysts suggest North Vietnamese orders to the Viet Cong could have resulted, in part, from Soviet and Chinese pressure.

For months, U.S. officials have been appealing to Moscow and Peking to curb Hanoi and make the North Vietnamese live up to the cease-fire agreement.

With Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev due in Washington next month and major U.S.-Soviet negotiations under way, the Russians have an obvious stake in tamping down the Indochina problem at least for the time being.

The Communist Chinese have reason to want things kept relatively quiet in Southeast Asia while Washington and Peking are moving toward fuller diplomatic and trade relations.

All this could help explain the reported withdrawal of the North Vietnamese Army's 308th Division and elements of two other divisions back above the old DMZ in recent weeks.

However, the North Vietnamese still have 13 other army divisions inside South Vietnam and there is ample evidence that the Communists may be preparing for major military action in the future.

Skylab Mission Begins

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The countdown advanced on schedule today for the launching of Skylab, America's first space station, which is to serve as a giant "cabin in the sky" for nine astronauts in the next eight months.

More than 700,000 gallons of liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen fuel were pumped into the Saturn 5 booster as the count entered the final hours for the planned 1:30 p.m. EDT liftoff.

Skies were cloudy and there was a possibility of rain during the day, the weatherman reported.

If the laboratory orbits successfully, the three-man Skylab 1 crew will rocket into space Tuesday and link up with the station for a record 28-day mission.

The astronauts — Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz — were to watch the Saturn 5 liftoff from a viewing area three miles from the launch pad. The 33-story-tall rocket is to drill the station into a 270-mile-high orbit.

Then the spacemen will make preparations for their own launch aboard a smaller 22-story Saturn 1B rocket at 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Also here are members of the Skylab 2 and 3 crews who later in the year are to visit the same laboratory, each for 56 days.

The nine astronauts will conduct extensive medical, scientific, earth resources and space manufacturing experiments to determine how well man can live and work in space for long periods.

What they learn will set guidelines for long duration missions of the future, such as permanent space stations or journeys to other planets.

The information also may have far-reaching consequences in bringing benefits from space to mankind, especially in the survey of earth's hidden natural resources.

Donald K. Slayton, director of flight crew operations, said Sunday that Conrad, Kerwin and Weitz are "fully trained, confident and looking forward to getting the big one off tomorrow and riding the little one on Tuesday." The astronauts Sunday sun-bathed on a Cape Kennedy beach after flying here from Houston, Tex., where they underwent final training.

When they board their orbiting laboratory, they will find "all the comforts of home, reports Conrad, the Skylab 1 commander. He is a veteran of three previous space trips, including a walk on the moon.

No more cramped quarters like the Mercury, Gemini or Apollo capsules. Skylab is as large as a three-bedroom house and has 60 times more volume than Apollo.

Each astronaut will have his own bedroom. There is a kitchen and a pantry packed with a ton of food ranging from filet mignon to ice cream.

There's a shower and a toilet, stereo sets, books, changes of clothing, playing cards, a dart board, exercise machines and a picture window for viewing earth. And every seventh day will be a day of rest.

And the Skylab 1 crew will have a live-in doctor. Kerwin, a physician, will handle the medical experiments which have priority on the first mission. He has a dispensary elaborately equipped to monitor the health of the astronauts.

Upon reaching orbit Skylab will weigh 170,000 pounds. When the astronauts' spaceship hooks up with it, it will weigh a total of 199,750 pounds and will be 118 feet long.

With a total of six wing-like solar panels extended it will be a strange-looking space contraption. The panels convert the sun's rays to electrical energy.

In addition to the ferry vehicle, which is a modified Apollo ship, Skylab has four major sections:

—The 22-foot-diameter orbital workshop, two-stories high, which contains the astronauts' main living and working space. Bedrooms, kitchen, wardroom and dispensary are located on the first floor. Upstairs is a storage and work area containing science equipment, a food freezer, water storage tank and film vaults.

—Forward of the workshop is an airlock module, which serves as part of the passageway between the ferry ship and the workshop and which is the nerve center of the cluster. It contains heat and electrical controls and communications gear. It also will be a pressurization chamber for astronaut space walks.

—Also part of the passage is the multiple docking adapter, where the ferry ship docks, and which contains the controls of the solar observatory equipment and earth resources instruments.

—The telescope mount, the world's first manned solar observatory which contains six telescopes for studying the sun, stars and other celestial objects. It weighs 24,656 pounds.

There is no staircase between the first and second levels of the workshop, because in their weightless world the spacemen will be able to float from point to point. But to help guide them from floor to floor, there is a "fireman's pole" running from top to bottom of the workshop.

Ranging as far North as the U.S.-Canadian border and as far South as the tip of Argentina, Skylab will fly over 75 per cent of the world's surface — more than any other manned spacecraft.

Several nations have asked the astronauts to conduct earth resources experiments as they pass overhead — ranging from mineral surveys, mapping water resources, studying agriculture potential and photographing possible air and water pollution sources.

The huge spacecraft will be visible in areas of the world that it streaks over at dawn and dusk. It will appear as a bright star.

The Skylab 1 astronauts are to return to earth June 12, setting up the laboratory for a visit by the Skylab 2 crew on Aug. 8. The Skylab 3 team is to rocket up to the lab on Nov. 9.

Peace Force Probes VC Charges

SAIGON (AP) — The International Commission of Control and Supervision unanimously agreed today to investigate Viet Cong charges that U.S. planes attacked Communist territory in South Vietnam in violation of the cease-fire agreement.

The United States denied the charges in advance of the meeting today of the commission.

The South Vietnamese also made charges, claiming that 50,000 North Vietnamese troops had moved into the South in the first three months of the ceasefire, along with 400 tanks and 300 artillery pieces.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the four-nation international commission reported that three 105mm artillery shells smashed into one of its field headquarters at Ben Cat, 25 miles north of Saigon, Sunday night. The main headquarters building was heavily damaged, but there were no casualties. The spokesman said an investigation would be made to determine who did the shooting.

The commission, which is made up of Canada, Indonesia, Poland and Hungary, met today in response to Viet Cong notes Saturday and Sunday alleging that U.S. planes are bombing Viet Cong territory in South Vietnam along a 40-mile stretch of the Cambodian border, from Xom Mat, 75 miles northwest of Saigon, to Loc Ninh, 75 miles north of the capital.

The Communists reported one U. S. attack Saturday on Loc Thanh, north of Loc Ninh. They said 34 persons were wounded in the attack by two U.S. Phantom jets.

The U.S. Embassy in Saigon and the U.S. Pacific Command in Honolulu both denied the charges.

"We have a policy of not doing any bombing in South Vietnam," an embassy spokesman said. "If it's an accident, I don't know, but I doubt it. I think they're making it up. We are observing the cease-fire and not doing any bombing."

In Honolulu, a military spokesman said: "We have had no combat operations over South Vietnam since the ceasefire."

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian military command said U.S. B52 bombers and fighters knocked out a Communist command post 10 miles west of Takeo, a provincial capital 40 miles south of Phnom Penh that has been under siege since April 3.

ROUNDTOWN

RAY Pack, guidance director for the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational School, will be at McDowell auditorium Wednesday evening to meet with citizens in the Logan Elm School District. . . . Pack will discuss curriculum, methods, services and administration of the school and answer questions from parents. . . . The meeting is scheduled at 7 p.m.

C. P. Pfeleger, Red Cross Blood Chairman, today reminded Pickaway County residents that the Bloodmobile will be visiting Circleville on Thursday, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., at Community United Methodist Church. . . . Pfeleger stressed the importance of this visit, since the county presently stands at only 95 per cent of its quota for 1973. . . . "In order to continue full coverage for all residents and their families, on the basis of residence only, we must have complete support from the community", he commented. . . .

Since 56 days have elapsed since the March visit, those who were donors then may give blood again on Thursday. . . . However, no one can be accepted who has donated five times during the preceding twelve months. . . .

To make an appointment, prospective donors should call the Red Cross, 474-5736.

IT'S National Police Week. . . . Circleville Police kicked off the week-long observance Sunday by sponsoring a circus. . . . Mayor Frank Barnhill issued a proclamation today honoring Circleville's "men in blue".

CIGARS and candy were being handed out with a smile today by Pickaway County Commissioner Robert Liston. . . .

He became a grandpappy today, his first.

Weather

MONTREAL (AP) — An abortion was shown in its entirety on Canadian television Sunday night with the woman speaking with the doctor throughout the five-minute procedure.

Butz Calls Watergate Probe 'Inquisition'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of President Nixon's Cabinet says the Senate Watergate investigating committee is launched on a "political inquisition" by a publicity-hungry chairman.

The hard-line attack by Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz was dismissed by Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., as an "absurdity." The exchange came as the committee prepared to open public hearings and coincided with several new developments in the spreading Watergate scandal:

—Former acting FBI director L. Patrick Gray III was said by The Washington Post to have been told by two FBI officials several weeks after the Watergate break-in there were signs of a coverup.

The Post quoted sources as saying the officials urged Gray to alert Nixon but that he refused on grounds it might appear he was seeking presidential guidance.

It could not be determined, the Post said, if this occurred before a July 6 telephone call in which Gray reportedly told Nixon he was disturbed that actions by White House aides were confusing the FBI's Watergate investigation.

—One of those aides, John W. Dean III, ousted White House counsel, was reported by Time magazine to have been asked by Nixon two months ago to sign a virtual confession that he was the only White House aide to cover up facts in the Watergate case.

—Dean, who has vowed he will not be made a scapegoat in the case, was quoted in an interview with Newsweek magazine as saying he did not write the report which Nixon said was the basis for his Aug. 29 statement that no aide then in the White House was involved in Watergate.

"Here was the President of the United States reassuring the American people on the basis of a report that didn't exist," Newsweek quoted Dean as saying.

A similar report was carried by Time which quoted an associate of Dean saying Dean made no Watergate investigation for Nixon, despite widespread assumptions to the contrary.

Dean was widely reported to have conducted such a probe and former FBI Director Gray told the Senate Judiciary Committee that Dean sat in on FBI interrogations of White House staff members.

Time reported Dean was called into Nixon's office in March and asked to sign two papers. It said one was a virtual confession, accepting all blame for concealing facts in the case and, in effect, absolving others. It said the other was Dean's resignation.

According to the Time account, Dean refused to sign either paper and also refused to draft his own letter of resignation. Returning to Nixon's office later, Time said, Dean was told by the President he must "shoulder the burden" and that there would be no full "airing of the case." Dean was fired April 30.

Dean is one of a list of 20 witnesses so far scheduled to appear before the Senate's Watergate investigating committee which opens public hearings Thursday.

The work of the committee was praised Sunday by its ranking Republican member, Sen. Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, as the "most nonpartisan important inquiry I have ever seen."

As Baker was saying his fears had proved groundless that the four Democrats on the seven-member committee would take partisan advantage, the panel's objectivity was attacked by Agriculture Secretary Butz.

Butz told a news conference the Senate investigation is an inquisition conducted "largely for political reasons" and called Chairman Ervin "a publicity-seeking senator."

In his reply, Ervin noted every Republican in the Senate voted to set up the committee, suggested Butz stick to agriculture and added: "Nothing would satisfy me more than to have Secretary Butz testify from his own knowledge that the Watergate never happened."

Meanwhile, Baker, who said he has no reason to believe Nixon has not been telling the truth, said the President faces possible impeachment if it is proved he was involved in the Watergate bugging or its alleged coverup.

Baker was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press."

As the Senate committee moved to take the investigation to the public, these were other Watergate-related developments:

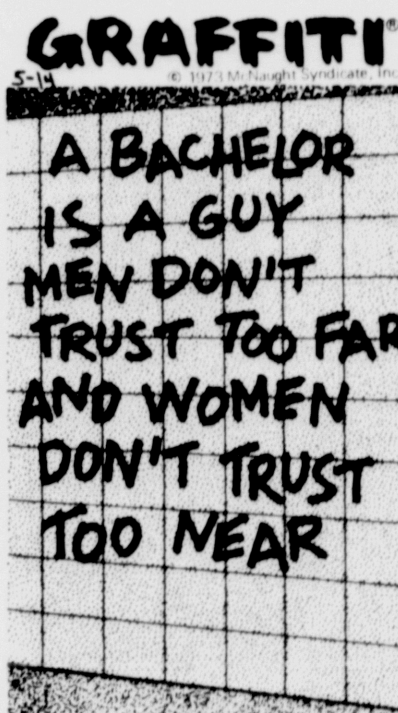

—The New York Times said in today's editions that Dean tried to set up an underground espionage ring to infiltrate groups planning protests at the Democratic and Republican national conventions. The Times said it could not learn whether Dean had actually established such a network.

—Martha Mitchell rejected as "crazy" and "nonsense" a Time magazine report that she has suffered a nervous breakdown and entered a hospital for treatment. The wife of former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell called The New York Times, said she was at home in her Fifth Avenue apartment Sunday, but had spent a week at the home of a friend.

The Times quoted a source at an unnamed hospital as saying Mrs. Mitchell arrived shortly after midnight last Monday, refused to sign herself in but was admitted anyway. "That's not so," the Times quoted Mrs. Mitchell as saying.

—John J. Caulfield, a Treasury Department official, abruptly asked for and received a leave of absence. This followed a news report that he promised Watergate conspirator James W. McCord Jr. executive clemency if he remained silent. Caulfield served under Dean and chief domestic adviser John D. Ehrlichman in the White House.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices plunged today in moderately active trading as investors looked at the dollar taking a beating in Europe, the price of gold skyrocketing, the continuation of the Watergate affair, and the Federal Reserve's hike in the discount rate.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 13.32 at 914.66, well below the year's low of 921. Declining issues on the New York Stock Exchange led advancing issues by a 5-to-1 margin.

"There's just a general unhappiness showing itself in the market today," said Monte Gordon of Dreyfus Corp. "There are doubts as to what President Nixon can accomplish now."

General Motors was the most-active issue on the Big Board, down 1 3/4 at 68 1/2.

Deaths And Funerals

MASTER RAYMOND WINNER

Master Raymond Earl Winner, 5, Route 4, Logan, died of leukemia 5:30 p.m. Sunday at Hocking Valley Community Hospital, Logan.

Born Jan. 13, 1968, in Circleville, he was the son of Raymond Charles and Patsy Gallion Winner, who survive at Route 4, Logan.

Other survivors include paternal grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Palm, Logan St.; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Faye Gallion, 935 S. Pickaway St.; great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Delong, 1204 S. Pickaway St.; Mrs. Jcy Winner, 120 Watt St.; Mr. P. Roth, Mansfield; Mr. Ozzie Gallion, Willard, Ky.; one aunt and one uncle.

Services will be 2 p.m. Wednesday in Mader Funeral Home with the Rev. Ira Burnworth officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p.m. today.

MR. LAWRENCE O. ARNOLD

Mr. Lawrence O. Arnold, 62, Route 4, died 7:15 a.m. Sunday at Riverside Hospital, Columbus.

Born May 24, 1910 in Fayette County, he was the son of Clauson and Mary Sanders Arnold.

Survivors include his widow, Rosie Payton Arnold; four brothers, Harold Arnold, Circleville; John Arnold, Louisiana; Paul Arnold, Route 1; Noah Arnold, Circleville; two sisters, Mrs. Edna Teets and Miss Mildred Arnold, Circleville.

The funeral service will be 2 p.m. Wednesday at Defenbaugh-Wise-McCain Funeral Home, E. Main St., Circleville. Burial will be in Browns Chapel Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p.m. Monday.

Bruce Heads For Peking Assignment

HONG KONG (AP) — America's first diplomatic representative to Communist China, David K. E. Bruce, crossed the border from Hong Kong today and headed for Peking.

The veteran 75-year-old diplomat told newsmen he considered his new assignment "very intriguing." He also said he did not expect the Watergate scandal or the ineffectiveness of the cease-fire in Vietnam to affect his job in any way.

Two Chinese soldiers checked the passports of Bruce, his wife, and their three companions in the middle of the border bridge over the Shum Chun river. Then a Chinese government official and a member of the China International Travel Service greeted them.

The group lunched at the Shum Chun railroad station, then took the train to Canton. From there they were to fly to Peking.

The Chinese delayed the Canton flight for three hours for the American envoy, his wife, Evangeline, his deputy John Holderidge and his aide Brunson McKinley and his wife.

Before crossing the border, Bruce met there with Charles Freeman, a State Department interpreter returning to Washington after six weeks in Peking. Freeman told Bruce of the American advance team that has been in the Chinese capital for six weeks getting ready for the opening of the U.S. liaison office Bruce will head.

The mission is not expected to be ready to open its permanent office for another three or four weeks. Until then Bruce will work out of an apartment.

A U.S. spokesman said the liaison office will start functioning as soon as Bruce arrives but there will be no formal opening.

Two Injured In Auto Mishap

Two Lockbourne Lodge residents were injured 11:30 p.m. Sunday in an automobile accident just north of Ashville on Lockbourne Road.

David W. Dailey, 30, driver of the car, lost control. The vehicle went off the road rolled over in the ditch and came to a stop astraddle a farm fence.

Dailey and William C. Henderson, 16, a passenger in the car, were taken to Mercy Hospital, Columbus, for treatment of injuries sustained in the accident.

Report Decline In Aid To Poor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 50-state survey indicates the poor are receiving less aid from the Legal Services program than before Howard Phillips became acting director of the Office of Economic Opportunity early this year.

A report on the survey sponsored by eight organizations involved in antipoverty law concludes that many Legal Services lawyers are handling fewer cases, postponing major litigation, or turning clients away. Many frustrated lawyers, it said, are quitting the program.

The report was released Sunday on the heels of President Nixon's proposal Friday for a national legal-services corporation, "independent of political pressures," to replace the Legal Services program currently within the OEO.

Nixon has ordered Phillips to dismantle OEO, with the exception of its Legal Services program, by June 30.

The report of the National Colloquium on Legal Services, headed by Edgar S. Cahn, dean of the Antioch Law School, also asserted that political motives of Legal Services officials in Washington are compromising the integrity of the current program. It said federal officials have adopted strategies to turn control over local projects to local politicians or to local bar associations "with known hostility toward the local legal service program involved."

OEO policies under Phillips, the report said, "have had the widespread effect of generating funding crises, disrupting programs, increasing attorney and staff turnover, lowering the volume of services rendered and undermining the confidence of attorneys and clients in the stability of the program."

Cahn, who led a six-man team in drafting the report, said local programs could face similar problems if Legal Services is transferred from the OEO to a new corporation.

"If OEO can do the things we've detailed, then certainly a private corporation which is not held to the same standards, can certainly do the same and more unless they're watched like a hawk," Cahn said.

The report accused OEO officials of withholding grants vital to the survival of local programs, isolating national bar associations from the antipoverty attorneys, and placing the program's lawyers "under virtual house arrest to prevent them from acting in concert to protect the program's professional integrity."

Urge Syphilis Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — A panel of Alabama residents today urged federal compensation of the victims of the Tuskegee, Ala., syphilis study.

The recommendation came from the Alabama Advisory Committee to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

The group called upon the government to provide full health care for surviving test subjects and financial compensation for families of those who died.

The study, conducted over a 40-year period by the U.S. Public Health Service, involved more than 430 black males. Some were left untreated in order to study the effects of syphilis.

At least 28, and perhaps as many as 107, died as the result of untreated syphilis.

Equal Pay Bill Faces House Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio House will vote Tuesday on a bi-partisan measure that would provide for equal pay for equal work. The bill has the support of the Ohio AFL-CIO.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Sam Speck, R-95 New Concord, aims to prohibit the discrimination between the sexes in the payment of wages.

Opponents of the Equal Rights Amendment, particularly Ohio AFL-CIO chief Frank King, point to the bill as an example of the legislation they say women should be seeking.

King said his organization supports any legislation to remove inequities in laws applying to women, but does not favor the ERA. He added that the amendment is too broad and unnecessary.

The ERA passed the Ohio House earlier this year, but died in a Senate committee with the help of King.

Speck's equal pay bill would prohibit any employer from ordering a reduction in pay to comply with its provisions and would provide that any employee not paid on par with other employees for equal work may go to court to recover lost wages.

The Senate was to convene at 4 p.m. today followed by the House at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday.

At present, more than 60 per cent of the Newfoundland government's revenues come from the Canadian federal government.

received by the Red Cross in the first three days after the tornado virtually wiped out three mobile home parks. The twister destroyed more than 160 trailers. Another 20 mobile homes were damaged, and several private homes along U.S. 224 on the southern edge of Willard also were wrecked.

"People are still in shock," City Manager Michael G. Orenic Jr. said, theorizing Sunday on why more requests for housing hadn't been received.

Most of the dispossessed residents were reported staying with relatives or friends, but officials assume that those arrangements are only temporary and that scores of families soon will be looking for permanent lodgings.

Cleanup work is continuing today and is expected to take several more days.

The 75 Ohio National Guard troops who were sent into the city Thursday night pulled out Sunday night.

Orenic has asked Gov. John J. Gilligan to declare Willard a disaster area as a first step to securing federal aid for residents and businesses hit hard by the tornado.

Orenic said the estimate on the number of homeless was made by a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development official. HUD has told the city there are temporary housing units available as soon as places are prepared for them.

The Mobile Home Association also has offered to send in trailer homes for temporary housing.

Mayor Kenneth Sommers said tentative plans call for clearing debris from several pads in the three trailer parks and using those sites for the temporary housing.

Fred Cook, owner of Coble Village, a mobile home village which was almost completely demolished, said he had been told that temporary units were available from HUD to move into his park as soon as the pads are cleaned up and utilities are restored.

Coble Village contained more than 40 mobile homes which were only a couple of years old.

The tornado killed three persons, injured more than 60 and caused damage estimated by Orenic at more than $5 million.

A Page Of Opinion

Decentralized Authority

Major political scandals leave their marks, regardless of how complete the disclosure or thorough the housecleaning. The full effect of the Watergate scandal will not be known until after the last indictment, trial and investigation has been completed.

The immediate short-term impact has been to place the upper echelon of government in a state of shock. That effect may wear off shortly now that the President has taken action to change top personalities of the White House staff.

Without knowing the full scope of legal actions still to come from investigations under way by grand juries, the Justice Department and Senate investigators, one lesson is apparent and should not be ignored in restructuring the top level chain of command in the government.

That is that absolute power still corrupts as it has tended to do in previous administrations. The President, of course, needs strong aides who can command the loyalties and performance of the sprawling agencies of government.

But he also needs the independent judgment and competition of ideas which come with decentralization. It is as important to develop the upward flow of information and thought in government as it is command from the top.

Decentralizing authority and responsibility lessens the chances for such ridiculous political maneuvers as the Watergate affair. It also helps promote public confidence in the political system, now at a low point. The task of restructuring White House offices should be accomplished with this in mind.

Sense In Watergate

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Practically every commentator who has had anything to say about the Watergate case has remarked on its stupidity. I have done so myself, referring to E. Howard Hunt, James W. McCord, George Gordon Liddy and the rest as political cretins who could only have succeeded in turning up worthless information by bugging the Democratic Party headquarters. But the alleged connection of the CIA with the burglary of the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, which could have had an intelligent motive, makes one wonder.

General Robert E. Chusman Jr., who as a CIA employee back in 1971 is supposed to have authorized the use of the agency's equipment and research in the job of lifting the Ellsberg records, cannot by any manner of means be described as stupid. He was Vice President Nixon's adviser on national security for four years. He served with distinction in Vietnam before Nixon, as President, called him back to Washington to become deputy director of the CIA. The CIA's charter gives the agency no authority to mix in domestic affairs, but it could be argued that the Pentagon Papers, which Ellsberg had conveniently tossed over the transom of the New York Times, had "foreign" implications. Conceivably Hanoi might have been waiting with bated breath to read them. CIA complicity in getting a look-see at anything involving the leaking of the papers could have been justified as part of its mandate to protect "intelligence methods and sources" from unauthorized disclosure.

E. Howard Hunt, one of the ex-CIA members of the Watergate team, had access to a scrambler telephone linked with the CIA. Chusman supposedly made everything easy for Hunt and his accomplice Liddy to deal with the CIA. The whole business makes a sinister but understandable sense: it could have been an instance of the government trying to keep its security tight at a time when Nixon was maneuvering to make deals with the Red Chinese and the Soviet Union to get us out of the Vietnam War.

Richard Helms, who was head of the CIA before Hixon tapped him to serve as Ambassador to Iran, has denied that his old agency had anything to do with Watergate. But Hunt and James McCord, as ex-CIA employees, could have regarded themselves as continuing captains of a CIA "spin-off" operation. Four members of their Watergate team actually thought they were engaged in a CIA fishing expedition. What would justify fishing at the Watergate? Only the supposition that a foreign angle was involved. The four underlings—and Hunt, McCord and Liddy at the top—could have been listening in to catch attempted foreign manipulation of a major American political party.

This is no excuse for breaking and entry, for burglary, or for conducting electronic espionage at the expense of U.S. citizens without a warrant. But the supposition that Watergate was undertaken as part of a continuing Cold War effort to protect the American republic against the possible connivings of the Communist powers gives it at least a measure of dignity. It supplies an intelligent motive for doing a thing that, on the surface, was a nonsensical act.

Hunt, who served the CIA for 20 years, couldn't have been in the business of the watergate just to get early access to George McGovern's speaking engagements in Boston or Peoria. He had played his part in the Bay of Pigs abortive invasion of Cuba and in the operation that kept the Communists from taking over the government of Guatemala in 1954. A veteran of the Cold War, he must have considered himself a silent partner of the CIA when he went to the White House in 1971 to become one of the "plumbers" charged with preventing security leaks. He has said that he "worked closely with the CIA" in the trying to stop leaks that had endangered the SALT talks and had "resulted in the extermination of one of our agents in Asia."

If the CIA had anything to do with Watergate, Hunt, as a patriot, could not possibly squeal on his old buddies. That would prejudice our whole intelligence operation. Regardless of whether there were any formal ties with the CIA or not, Hunt, in his own mind, could have considered that, in the Watergate business, he was doing work he had been trained to do: i.e., counter-intelligence. The only justification for bugging the Watergate would have been to find out what foreign agents were doing to influence an American election.

Avoid Accidents At State Parks, Official Urges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Parks and Recreation Division Chief Jack Miller has cautioned persons using state parks this summer to take precaution to avoid accidents.

"We don't want people to be afraid to use state park facilities," Miller said, "but we want them to be aware of the dangers and to take precautions to avoid accidents."

Pointing out that most accidents occur in the more remote areas of the state parks, Miller said park rangers have the answers to problems which might be encountered.

"Visitors also should leave park animals alone—even if they appear friendly," Miller said, adding that in the case of baby animals often "the mother... is nearby waiting for the hikers to go away."

38 Arrested In Lebanon Police Sweep

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — In pre-dawn raids today, security forces arrested 38 Lebanese and foreigners suspected of being "agents provocateurs" in the country's army-Palestinian guerrilla conflict.

Along the Syrian border, air force jets struck guerrilla positions for the fourth straight day following shelling attacks on army outposts near Araboun and the Roman ruins at Baalbeck.

Police sources said the security raids netted two West Germans, one Belgian and his Lebanese girlfriend, two other Lebanese, three Irishmen, two Syrians and 20 "non-Lebanese Arabs."

One of the Germans was charged with spying for Israel. Police said he was arrested photographing army men and vehicles near the Beirut airport and a later search of his apartment uncovered a large radio transmitter.

They claimed he was an Israeli intelligence agent who worked with a South Yemen accomplice. The latter was being sought.

The Belgian and his girlfriend were charged with shooting from a car at both army and guerrilla positions.

Both sides repeatedly have accused a "third force" of firing on them during the fighting that began in Beirut 11 days ago.

Military communiques said Lebanese jets took to the air Friday night to bomb and strafe guerrilla positions near the eastern border following attacks on several army outposts.

Mortars and rockets hit Lebanese positions at Shadra, Arida and Antikiet along the northern border, prompting retaliation by army field artillery.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Our 6-year old daughter recently had her tonsils and adenoids removed.

I spent the night in the hospital, exactly as you had suggested in one of your columns. My husband and I prepared her for the operation by reading the book you had supervised under your technical guidance.

We told her the truth about everything that was going to happen and so she was not afraid. Just as you said, this made all the difference in the world.

The result was so gratifying that I wanted to thank you and to suggest that you write another column for readers who might have missed it.

Mrs. B.F., Calif

Dear Mrs. F.:

I, too, am gratified that your child had the benefit of this considerate approach to a tonsil operation.

Hospitalization, with its anesthesia, unexpected pain, and the feeling of abandonment, can have a permanent impact on the sensitive mind of a child.

Yet, when a child is armed with the truth and when one of its parents can spend the night at the hospital, it is exciting to witness how this nightmarish situation can be converted into a wonderful growth experience of childhood.

Children who are properly prepared before they go to the hospital have a totally different experience from the child who is not prepared.

Many parents think they are sparing their child anxiety by making light of what he is about to face. These "false notions" merely contribute to a constant state of terror during the hospital stay.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks you're bound to hear at the annual dinner party of an office 25-year-club:

"They used to give you a gold watch after 25 years. Now you're lucky if they give you the time."

"Take it easy on the stuffed clams, Sam. Remember, we had to take you to the hospital on the way home last year."

"I can understand a guy taking home a piece of leftover steak in a doggy bag, but Jake — that pennyante piker — beats anything I ever heard of. He brings a gunny sack and totes home enough groceries to feed his family for a month."

"I hear they're going to announce a 10 per cent cut in our bonus."

"I heard they aren't planning to give one at all."

"Why is it all you talk about lately, Jim, is what you plan to do when you get your pension? Don't you realize you've been on a free ride here since the first day you walked into the office?"

"Better start making the drinks a little smaller, Joe, or else we'll have a job absenteeism rate of 90 per cent tomorrow."

"Come on, Joe, pour a little booze in there. I think it ought at least cover the bottom of the glass. That last drink you gave me wouldn't souse a mouse."

"If any of those morale boys in the personnel department start trying to sing what a jolly good fellow our new president is, I'm going to start a mass walkout."

"All I hope is that those guys in the stock department don't start throwing things to liven up the joint. Last year I caught a baked potato in the eye."

"Who do you suppose they've picked this year to give the speech on how we

Their psychological and physical pain are accentuated because so much of it comes as a complete surprise. They feel their parents have deceived them and deserted them.

But when children are told the purpose of the operation, that anesthesia is to spare them pain, and that their throats will hurt afterward, they accept the whole experience in stride, and do not suffer so many unnecessary emotional aftereffects.

Hospital administrators are now relaxing their rules to make it possible for mothers to stay overnight with their child, even in wards and semi-private rooms. This gives him the sense of security he deserves.

To help parents prepare their children for surgery, especially the tonsil operation, I have supervised the writing of two story books for children. I don't know which one you refer to, but both include all the essential principles for preparing a child for a good hospital experience.

"Going to the Hospital" (Random House) is a pop-up story book with lifelike mechanical illustrations that visualize for the child what he can expect at the hospital. Bettina Clark is the author.

A Visit to the Hospital" (Grosset & Dunlap) is written by Francine Chase. Parents for some time have found this extremely helpful.

Both books have been recommended by educators, psychologists, and child-development groups as invaluable aids to parents who wish to prepare their children for a hospital experience that will not be fraught with fear or emotional aftermaths.

have to start cutting down on the number of paper towels we use in the men's washroom?"

"The only reason I come to these shindigs anyway is to laugh at how much older these freeloaders look each year."

"If anybody seriously started to cut out the deadwood in this group, it would sound like a whole forest being chopped down."

"No, I'm not Jeeters in Planning — I'm Hoppers in Sales. Try to get my name straight by next year, will you? You've been mixing me up with that other guy for 10 years — and he's been dead for five of them." "Hey, Sid, when I get the bartender's attention, grab a bottle and slip it under your coat so we'll have something to nip on when the speeches start."

"They say us 25-year-men are the backbone of the organization, but what kind of an organization is it that has a backbone made of jellyfish?"

"I don't feel like an honored veteran. I feel like a feeble survivor."

"All right, all right, who's the smart aleck who turned my plate upside down right after I finished filling it up?"

"I guess it's time to lock up Jones. There are a couple of gaffers sleeping it off under a rug in the corner — but that's the way these parties always wind up."

Machine Guns Unregistered By Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Only 177 of the known 3,000 machine guns owned by Ohioans have been registered under a 1968 state gun control law, according to the Ohio Adjutant General's office.

Col. William D. Haines said 3,000 Ohio-owned machine guns have been registered under federal law. Police estimates of the number of machine guns in the state run to almost triple that figure, however.

Haines said that the state authorities are barred from the federal licensing files, because a 1968 U.S. Supreme Court decision ruled that owners volunteering information of a machine gun should be protected from self-incrimination.

He said many of the machine guns are war trophies smuggled home after World War II and are technically property of the federal government.

Another reason for balky registrations is the $5,000 indemnity bond the state requires for each weapon, he said.

Owners of the weapons are liable for a $5,000 fine and up to five years in prison if the machine guns are discovered, Haines noted.

But "we're not interested in locking people up," he said. "We just want to know where all the machine guns are."

Gasoline Price Hikes Predicted

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — The president of Ashland Oil, Inc., says a gasoline shortage could cause a 10 per cent increase in prices as early as this summer.

"We are already rationing gas within the industry," said Robert Yancey. "As that practice continues, there will be some small and independent dealers who will be shut down."

"But if you think it will be hard to buy gas this summer, wait until next winter when the fuel oil demand is up."

Yancey said plans for a new Ashland Oil refinery, at an as yet undetermined site in the Ohio Valley, have reached engineering stages.

He appeared Sunday on WSAZ-TV's At Issue.

Also on the show was Sam McMullan, manager of Armco Steel Co.'s Ashland, Ky., plant, who said price increases announced by U. S. Steel Corp. will be matched by the entire industry.

"We've been trying to get a price hike for months...and the boom in business should continue after the increases," McMullan said.

Plan Franklin County Photos From Space

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Columbus Development Department plans to receive at least 38 far out photographs of Franklin County, showing highways, streams, farmland and factories.

The pictures will be taken by the orbiting Skylab, which will be launched today. A three-man crew, which will join the craft in space on Tuesday, will snap the pictures during a 28-day mission of circling the earth.

The Ohio Department of Economic and Community Development and the Battelle Memorial Institute of Columbus have an agreement with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for the Skylab crew to bring back the pictures of Franklin County.

The pictures will be given to the Columbus Development Department in late June or early July at no cost, said George Wukelic, a Battelle space researcher.

Wukelic said the photographs will show trees, farmland, highly developed areas, smoke pouring from factories and the depth of the county's streams and lakes.

However, he said, "Frankly, we don't know exactly all we'll be able to see until we receive the photos."

The pictures will be used for measurement of air pollution, for planning and zoning.

The Akron-Cleveland area will also be photographed during the mission.

government investigation records.

The case involves the investigation by the Agriculture Department of charges that the Farmers Home Administration had discriminated against minority families in Florida.

On May 9, a U.S. District Court here ruled that the Inspector General of USDA must reveal to RHA the basic details of the investigative report, but that "all materials that could identify loan applicants or other persons not serving as public officials are deleted."

Noted Cincy Fire Buff Dies At 86

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Flags were at half staff today at Cincinnati's fire stations in memory of Dr. Giles DeCourcy, 86, a long-time fire department surgeon and avid fire buff who died Saturday of a heart attack.

Fire Chief Bert Lugannani ordered the flags lowered until Dr. DeCourcy's funeral.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Dr. DeCourcy was a specialist in gynecology and obstetrics, but he went with a fire company in 1907 to help pay his college expenses. That started a lifelong interest in the fire department.

In 1916 he became fire surgeon of the Cincinnati Underwriters Salvage Corp., a civilian unit founded by insurance companies to respond to major fires.

Dr. DeCourcy held that job until the unit was disbanded in 1959 but he continued to respond to major fires to be of assistance as needed.

He treated many injured firemen including Chief Lugannani.

Dr. DeCourcy entered semi-retirement, but had continued to maintain a downtown office.

He came from a family of physicians. His grandfather, father, four brothers and his late son were physicians.

On his birthday last Sept. 3 he received letters of congratulations from President Nixon, Gov. John Gilligan and U.S. Rep. Donald Clancy, R-Cincinnati.

spector general, told a reporter that it was not decided yet whether the government would appeal the court's decision.

The RHA, meanwhile, says the decision is a big step in the public's drive to find out what is involved in investigations.

"The decision of the court is an opening wedge in the continuing effort to pry loose from government files information that should be available to the public," said Clay L. Cochran, executive director of RHA.

The case stemmed from a report by RHA in the fall of 1971, called "Abuse of Power," in which the Farmers Home Administration was accused of denying loans to needy families in Florida on the basis of race.

As a result of that report and subsequent congressional probes, the USDA instigated its investigation. On May 9, 1972, the Office of the Inspector General published a summary report in which it was said that "no substantial evidence" existed to support charges that FHA had erred.

Last week's court decision said that the investigative report "consists of purely factual information from which exhibits dealing with decision-making processes of the administration" can be easily separated.

Thus, the court said, the RHA should have access to the basic facts in the report.

Lawyers for RHA, a nonprofit group which engages in lobbying efforts for rural interests, and sources in USDA say that, if upheld, the court decision could be a major step in unlocking many of the government's previously classified investigative reports.

Assn. Of Garden Clubs Plans Annual Spring Regional Meet

REGIONAL MEETING — Putting the finishing touches on a floral arrangement while prepping for the annual Spring Regional Meeting of the Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs is Mrs. Charles Huston, Route 3, Circleville. On the right are Mrs. Donald H. Watt, Circleville, chairman of the nominating committee and Mrs. Joseph Sheets, Mt. Sterling.

The annual Spring Regional Meeting of the 65 garden clubs of Region 9 of the Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs is scheduled for May 24th at the Columbus Zoological Park and Gardens, 9990 Riverside Drive. Registration will begin at 9 a.m.

To reach the park travel I-71 to 270 west to 257 following signs "Columbus Zoological Park."

Responsible for handling the reservations and registration will be members of the Prairie Gardeners. Serving as reservation chairman will be Mrs. Wendell Metz, 444 Redmond Road, Columbus, Ohio 43228. Deadline for reservations will be May 18th.

The meeting will be held in the new Party House with the regional director, Mrs. Thomas B. Wilson, presiding. The business meeting will be preceded by a meeting of the garden club presidents at 9:45 a.m.

Presenting the nominees for the office of Regional Director will be Mrs. Donald H. Watt, chairman.

All facilities of the park will be at the disposal of the gardeners ending with a ride up the river in the paddle wheel boat.

Miss Elizabeth Carter

Bride Of Ronald Allen

MR. AND MRS. RONALD ALLEN

Miss Elizabeth Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Carter, Route 2, Amanda, and Mr. Ronald Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Allen, 349 E. High St., were united in marriage 3:30 p.m. April 21st.

The Rev. Richard Crosby performed the double ring ceremony in the United Methodist Church of Williamsport.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected for her wedding a white knit street length dress with short sleeves and v-neckline. She wore a corsage of white orchids.

Miss Carolyn Carter was maid of honor for her sister in a blue knit dress with long sleeves. Mr. Ricky Allen, brother of the bridegroom, performed the duties of best man.

The bride's mother was attired in a street length dress of lavender knit with long sleeves. Her corsage was of white and yellow orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a long sleeved black and white jersey dress and a corsage of purple and white orchids.

The new Mrs. Allen is a graduate of Logan Elm High School and employed by USS Chemicals in Circleville. Mr. Allen, a graduate of Circleville High School, is also employed at USS Chemicals as a press operator. The couple resides at 546 E. Main St., Circleville.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Tarlton, Adelphi, Lancaster, Bremen, Mechanicsburg and Circleville.

CELEBRATION — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stevenson, Route 3, were honored by their daughter, Mrs. Don Scott and Mrs. Richard Hix, with a surprise dinner party recently at Pickaway Arms honoring their 30th wedding anniversary. Other's present were: Don Scott and Terri, St. Paris; Richard Hix, Chris and Jason, Huntington, W. Va.; Miss Della Owen, Marion; John Owen, LaRue; Mr. and Mrs. Don Rose, Circleville and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Overly, Route 3. An arrangement of spring flowers and a decorated cake graced the dinner table. The balance of the afternoon was spent at the Stevenson home where the Hix family remained overnight.

Old Trails Chapter DAC

Conducts Year's Final Meet

Old Trails Chapter, Daughters of American Colonists, held its final meeting of the year, May 9th, at Richardo's Restaurant, Columbus.

Following luncheon, the meeting was called to order by the regent, Mrs. Robert Fox, Mrs. Gilbert Nelson, State DAC regent, and chapter member, Mrs. Harry Emaick, State 2nd vice regent were welcomed.

Also welcomed were two new members, Mrs. Russell Runbaugh and Mrs. Leroy Frazier, and guests Mrs. Helen Woods and Mrs. Mabel Houpt. The Pledge of Allegiance was given, followed by devotions given by Mrs. E. James Rapp, prepared by Mrs. Clarence Rowles.

The regent gave a report on the work done by the chapter, followed by a resume of the March State Assembly in Cincinnati given by Mrs. Elza Miles.

Mrs. Harry Emrick reported on the National DAC Assembly held in Washington, D.C. in April. The regent then introduced Mrs. Nelson who reviewed the work of the Ohio Society DAC, which included $100 sent to the Veterans Hospital in Chillicothe, money sent to Bacone Indian College for nursing scholarships, and plans for the United States Bi-Centennial Celebration.

She suggested that chapter memorials be sent to the Robinson Fund which is a History Scholarship to someone connected with DAC. The DAC History Book for the 50th anniversary year will be on sale. The DAC State Picnic was announced for June 27th, at the home of Mrs. Mary Mitchel, Plain City. This is a pot luck luncheon at noon.

Mrs. Fox thanked the retiring officers and introduced Mrs. Gilbert Nelson who installed the following officers for 1973-1975: regent, Mrs. Martin W. Cromley; vice regent, Mrs. Verne R. Silbaugh; chaplain, Mrs. E. James Rapp; recording secretary, Mrs. Elza Miles; corresponding secretary, Mrs. D. J. M. Sansotto; treasurer, Mrs. Donald Watt; historian, Mrs. H. Franklin Brink; librarian, Mrs. Leroy H. Cromley.

The meeting was dismissed with the benediction by Mrs. Rapp.

Hostesses were: Mrs. John Nye, Chairman, assisted by Mrs. E. James Rapp, Mrs. Clarence Rowles, Mrs. Howard Evans, and Mrs. H. Franklin Brink.

Ten Presented Honors For Latin

By Regina Bluck

Twenty-nine Latin students, 16 from Latin II and 13 from Latin I, took the Nationwide Latin Examination on March 15.

On May 1, results were received. In Latin I, two students will receive certificates—Stephanie Mesner with a score of 101 and Mark Noecker with a score of 92. In this class, the median score was 74, compared to a national median of 40.

In Latin II, eight students will receive certificates—Patricia Parsons with a score of 107, Nolan Hines with a score of 104, Wilson Ett with a score of 101, Sue Derring with a score of 100, David Warner with a score of 96, Kevin Archer with a score of 95, Jeri Voss with a score of 90, and Julie Pabst with a score of 90.

In this class, the median was 90, compared to the national median of 41.

In both classes, the lowest score was above the national medians. Both Latin I and Latin II classes are taught by Mrs. Phoebe Engle.

national topic, "My Responsibility to Freedom."

Kevin placed fourth out of nineteen contestants from other area schools, as well as Columbus and Newark schools.

Girls End China Study With Trip

Seventeen girls who are enrolled in Academic Home Economics and Mrs. Tootle, instructor, went on a field trip to Lazarus Home Store last week.

The trip followed a study of china, silver, and crystal; each girl had picked coordinated patterns from illustrations and then she visited the displays to decide if she still liked the patterns and determined the cost of place settings.

They also gave some attention to furniture styles and arrangements since this will be the next class topic.

Lunchtime was an experience in eating out which had been studied as an earlier topic. The group enjoyed a corner table at the Top of the Center which is on the 24th floor of the Huntington National Bank Building. Some enjoyed unusual foods; most ordered usual foods which were prepared and served with flair.

An activity such as this which puts what students have learned into practice is of great educational benefit. Dale Schiff was our bus driver and made this an excellent trip.

Latin Club Has Meeting

By Mark Noecker

Consul Joe Harris opened the April Latin I Club meeting, followed by the reading of minutes by Liz Good. The treasurer's report was read by Stephanie Mesner.

Members then discussed whether or not they would have another bake sale. It was decided to have one May 15. Sally Miller, Medrith Barr, and Regina Bluck were appointed to the Bake Sale Committee.

Joe Harris provided members with a Latin crossword puzzle, and Sally Miller put together a play for entertainment.

The Entertainment Committee for the next meeting will be: Sarah McCoy, Bruce Hutchinson, and Regina Bluck.

Seniors Receive Announcements

By Estill Salyers
Senior Class members recently received their graduation name cards and announcements.

With graduation only a few weeks away the seniors were glad to get them.

The 1973 announcements are unique. On a background of white are the numbers 73. The numbers are colored burgandy. Inside the bottom loop of 3 is a silver Viking on a burgandy shield. The inside has a light burgandy picture of a Viking behind the lettering.

Banquet To Honor Teens Is May 22

The annual honor banquet will be held at the Teays Valley High School at 6:30 p.m. on May 22. All parents and students are invited to attend.

Awards will be given honoring those students who have made the honor roll for the first five 6-weeks' periods this school year. Also, certificates will be given honoring those students placing on the Ohio Scholastic Achievement Tests and other citizenship and academic tests given throughout the school year.

Service awards will be given recognizing students who have rendered valuable service to the school.

The banquet will be a carry-in type meal. The Student Council will provide the table service for all honored guests and will also provide rolls and beverages for all guests.

READING ROOM— In 1892, the Pickaway County Library established a reading room in what is now the sneak-a-peek room. Picture on the wall above the fireplace is a painting of Dr. Marcus Brown, who bequeathed $10,000 to the library upon his death.

Library Movement Started In Circleville About 1823

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of five articles which outline the history of the Pickaway County District Public Library. These articles are being presented in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the library.

By JOY RAE

Pickaway County Library Staff
According to an article which appeared in the Circleville Herald around 1917, the earliest library movement in Circleville took place in 1823, when the Circleville Library Association was formed. It is not known where the meetings were held, or how much property was owned, but the association's constitution stated that its total property was not to exceed $10,000. This association appears to have been discontinued soon after it was formed.

In 1834, the Ohio Legislature incorporated the "Circleville Athenaeum", with the purpose of helping its members gain knowledge through the channels of reading, discussion, and lectures. This discussion group had a considerable library which was circulated among its members. It held its meetings in the front chamber of Dr. Old's building on the circle. Dr. Olds was its librarian, R. D. Atwater was its secretary, and William B. Thrall, editor of the Circleville Herald, was its president.

The Athenaeum was discontinued in 1837 due to a lack of funds. Its books were sold to pay off the debts of the institution. At that same time, however, another organization similar to the Athenaeum and with the same purpose was being formed. It was known as the Circleville Lyceum.

The first meeting of the Circleville Lyceum was held on Saturday, June 16, 1838, in the room over the Circleville Drug Store. Later meetings were held in the same room that the Athenaeum had occupied. Early Lyceum invitations indicate that businessmen of the community, and especially clergymen, were invited to join these discussion sessions. Women were also allowed to join, but they were not encouraged to do so. The Circleville Lyceum was discontinued in 1839, although some of its members continued to hold debates through 1840.

Around 1845, the Pickaway Lyceum was formed. It was probably a successor of the Circleville Lyceum, and was organized according to the same general principles. In 1851, the building containing the Lyceum Room and its property burned down. The books which could be saved were stored in the Everts School Library. Books containing the original Lyceum label could still be found in that library many years later. It is not known whether the Pickaway Lyceum continued to hold meetings after its building burned.

These early organizations were indications of the library spirit in Circleville. They each had their own library, and were concerned with the reading and discussion of various types of books. At that time, these pursuits were not the pastime of the general public. These discussion sessions seem to have been attended mainly by the professional men of the community; doctors, lawyers, ministers, prominent farmers, and business owners. They had to pay annual dues to belong. Considering the limited number of people who were able to enrich themselves through these organizations, we should be thankful that we now have a free, tax-supported public library that can be used by all the residents of our county.

Pickaway Shrine Club 'On The Go'

President Dave McDonald's "Go, Go, Go" program has The Pickaway Shrine Club on the "Go".

The recent annual visit of Illustrious Potentate Don Back and his Divan, and their ladies, was the social event of the local club this year. The nobles of the local shrine club and their ladies hosted the Aladdin Temple group at the American Legion Home with nobles, their ladies, and guests, totaling 165 present.

The entertainment program was furnished by the talented local Elks Singers under the direction of Terry Anderson. Dr. Robert G. Smith, first vice president and chairman of the social committee and John A. Evans, chairman of the reception committee and the members of their committees did an excellent job in making this social event a delightful affair.

On May 5 a pre-ceremonial breakfast was held at Mansel's Restaurant with Tom Wells, of the Hot Sands Committee, in charge. Membership chairman, Dewey Downs, introduced the candidates present and following the breakfast accompanied them to the Aladdin Temple Spring Ceremonial. Thirteen candidates, an affiliation by transfer from Moslem Temple, Detroit, and the re-affiliation of a local member were sponsored by the local club.

A short business meeting was held following the breakfast at which time Ed Kraus, Chairman of the circus committee, reported that the local club hosted 112 children at the Shrine Circus last month.

President McDonald requested the Shrine - K of C Golf Committee and the Pumpkin Show Committee to report on these events at the next regular meeting.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Refusing Premarital Sex Not Deceitful

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter in your column from a gal who met a guy when she accidentally got a wrong number on the phone. On their first date, he asked her to go to a motel with him. She refused. On their next date, however, he repeated the invitation and she went. After that the guy lost interest in her so she wrote to you for advice.

You said: "Next time, hold something back."

That attitude toward men by women is exactly why men regard most women as prostitutes. And mothers teaching their daughters to be dishonest by "holding something back" has resulted in marriages based on deceit and dubious dealings.

A woman can be a terrific mother, housekeeper, and companion, but if she's lousy in bed then dad will always have an itch that needs scratching. Likewise, a man can be a terrific father, provider, and companion, but if he's lousy in bed, mom will always have an itch that needs scratching.

When women and men start facing this reality and dealing with it, there will be fewer broken homes, nervous breakdowns, and letters to Dear Abby.

If you have the guts to print this letter, I have the guts to let you use my name.

TIMOTHY J. BOWERS, COLUMBUS, OHIO

DEAR TIMOTHY: Why is a girl who "holds something back" promoting a marriage "based on deceit and dubious dealings?" What is "deceitful" about refusing premarital sex?

Sure, a man or woman can be "lousy in bed" but other-wise terrific. What if either is "terrific" in bed but lousy otherwise? While sexual compatibility is important in marriage,

Vocational School Outlays Pondered By State Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Board of Education was to meet today with allocations for vocational facilities and instructional television up for consideration.

Matching funds totaling $23.8 million for the vocational facilities will be for construction of classrooms and other facilities in five city vocational school districts, one local vocational school district and nine joint vocational school districts.

Another $1.7 million will be considered by the board for instructional television.

Included in the television allocations is the possibility of the board joining in a consortium with other education agencies for production of a 15-lesson series on career education for 9-to-12 year-olds. The total cost for this would be $488,650, with Ohio's share $40,605.

Under another proposal, the Educational Association of Metropolitan Cleveland would produce a series of 16 programs on field trips to historical locations in Ohio at a cost of $51,181.

The 15 districts which have submitted requests to the board for vocational construction funds and the amounts, are:

Akron City School, $1.7 million; Butler County Joint Vocational School, $2.1 million; Central Ohio Joint Vocational School, Madison County, $2.1 million; Cleveland City Schools, $212,270; Cleveland Heights University Heights City Schools, $399,650; Delaware County Joint Vocational School, $2,070,000; Maplewood Area Joint Vocational School, Portage County, $3,155,000.

Oregon City Schools, Lucas County, $175,000; South-West City Schools, Franklin County, $136,964; Southwest Cuyahoga County Joint Vocational School, $3.4 million; Upper Valley Joint Vocational School, Miami County, $2.7 million; Washington County Joint Vocational School, $17,397, and West Clermont Local Schools, Clermont County, $15,672.

Ohio Teens Hold Model Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio teenagers took over the floor of the Ohio General Assembly this past week to lower the penalty for possession of marijuana, pass ecological bills and allow euthanasia during a model legislative session.

More than 400 teenagers spent three days in the statehouse as part of the YMCA's 22nd annual model legislature.

Model Gov. Robert Harnish of Cincinnati said he signed legislation Saturday to lower the age of majority to 18-year-olds, lessen the penalty for possession of marijuana to $5 for a first offense and allow strict control of euthanasia.

The euthanasia measure would allow victims of incurable diseases or conditions to die, in some cases, by withholding treatment, Harnish said.

Bills passed by the legislature, but left unsigned by the governor, included a measure to legalize the use of marijuana and bans on phosphate detergents, non-returnable bottles and smoking in public buildings.

A bill which would require newsmen to divulge their sources was killed in committee. A measure to compensate crime victims was defeated in the House.

Amelia Fire Loss $50,000

AMELIA, Ohio (AP) — Fire Sunday night and early today caused an estimated $50,000 damage to a plumbing firm in this Clermont County community.

Assistant Fire Chief James Kayser said the fire may have been arson and that the state fire marshal's office has been asked to investigate.

The fire was first reported at 9:45 p.m. Sunday and firemen left after they thought they had put out the blaze. Firemen from two departments were called again to the building about 4:30 a.m. today after the fire apparently rekindled itself, Kayser said.

The assistant chief said the last person known to have been in the building left it at 5 p.m. Saturday.

Damage to the building itself was estimated at $10,000, and damage to the contents at $40,000.

Toledo Fire Loss Over $1 Million

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo fire officials described the Vinylast Corp. plant on the city's near south side as a total loss following a three-alarm fire early today.

One estimated damage as over a million dollars.

The fire was first reported at 3:30 a.m. and firemen continued to battle it well after daybreak. Firemen reported explosions inside the building as it burned.

No official damage estimate or cause was immediately available.

The plant manufactured pipe and extrusions for doors.

Columbus, read about the deaths of four persons in the Columbus area this spring after canoes capsized in rain-swollen waterways. Stinziano was appalled.

Weyandt came back to Ohio and had prepared a bill that would name Ohio's Turnpike for James W. Shocknessy, the first and only chairman of the Turnpike Commission. He is credited widely with the toll road's financial success.

Stinziano prepared a bill that would require the Department of Natural Resources to post signs on state waterways, that warn of rapids, dams, and other safety hazards.

Neither bill has passed, and may not be, but they represent one way in which state lawmakers rely on personal observations to determine Ohio's legislative needs.

A freshman member of the House, Rep. Gene Damschroder, R-85 Fremont, said he acted on his own in proposing a pair of bills aimed at getting rid of Ohio's welfare "mess." He suggested sterilization of women with two illegitimate children on the welfare rolls, and the same treatment for men who refuse to support their minor children.

These examples do not account for a vast majority of all the bills, however. The lawmakers also act on requests of their constituents, and to no small degree for special interest groups—namely, the lobbyists. The state administration also has a big input. So far this year, all these sources have brought more than 1,350 bills into the Senate and House.

The influence of just one constituent can be considerable. Rep. Leonard J. Camera, D-35 Lorain, on the request of a neighborhood woman, re-introduced this year a previously unsuccessful bill to toughen penalties for torture and child neglect. After his bill was publicized, it was called up for prompt hearings and attention to the problem was revived.

Lobbying groups such as the 83,000-member Ohio Education Association have no trouble finding lawmakers to sponsor scores of bills they might propose. A considerable number of education-minded lawmakers were elected with OEA support.

The same holds true of the powerful Ohio AFL-CIO, headed by Frank W. King, former long-time legislative leader whose organization has a million members.

Numerous other professional and trade organizations, organized groups of local government officials, church groups, welfare organizations, the political parties, industry groups such as the Ohio Manufacturers Association—all have their ideas about legislation and do not hold them back.

In short, there never should be a legislature hard up for bills to consider.

Area Cindermen Qualify For District Meet

Circleville, Logan Elm and Westfall all qualified for berths in District track competition set for Saturday.

The Tigers placed third in the AA Sectional meet at Whitehall with 62 points. Bexley was first with 98 1-4 points and Mohawk had 86 for second.

Westfall placed seventh in the A Sectional with 29 points.

The District meet will be held Saturday at Walnut Ridge. Preliminaries and field events will get underway at 10 a.m. with the finals set for 1 p.m.

Qualifying for Circleville were: Tom Frericks, first place in the shot and discus; Radcliff, pole vault, third; Radabaugh, pole vault, fourth; Rick Sampsil, 100-yard dash, sixth; Jeff Robbins, mile run, third; Matt McGowan, mile run, fourth; 880 relay team, Mike Turner, Rick Sampsil, Tim Strawser and Chris Payne, fourth; Robin Martin, 440, fourth; Chris Payne, low hurdles, sixth; Doug Radabaugh, 880, fifth; Rick Sampsil, 220, sixth; Dick Liston, 2-mile, second; and the mile relay squad, Robin

Martin, Dave Webb, John McCoy and Glen Gillespie, sixth.

Gaining berths for Westfall were: Rick Metzger, mile, second and 880, second; Roger Johnson, 2-mile, second; Jim Mosley, high hurdles, fifth; mile relay team, Steve Johnson, Scott Skinner, Randy Hildenbrand and John Day, fifth; and the 880 relay squad, Mike Malone, Ross Anderson, Tim Hegarty and Alan Underwood.

Tom Sykes of Logan Elm qualified in the 2-mile run.

LAST TO QUALIFY — Crewmen service Joe Leonard's car after his second run for a qualifying spot for the Indianapolis 500 Sunday. Leonard was clocked at 189.954 mph on his third and final 10-lap run to be tentatively placed in the tenth, and last, row. There are only three qualifying places open for the Memorial Day race which offers $1 million in prize money. Average speed of all qualifiers is 192.572 mph.

Rutherford Leads Indy 500 Field

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — There apparently won't be any 200-mile-per-hour laps at Indianapolis Motor Speedway this May. And Johnny Rutherford, a cool-headed Texan who bears the scars of battle, could care less.

The 35-year-old veteran driver from Ft. Worth, Tex., victim of a trail of broken engines and parts at Indianapolis over the years, captured the front row pole position for the May 28 500-mile race in first-round qualifying Saturday.

He did it by pushing his Team McLaren car around the 2½-mile oval at a four-lap speed of 198.413 m.p.h. to top Bobby Unser's old 10-mile standard by almost three miles per hour. His fast lap of 199.071 m.p.h. missed the 200 mark by 21 one-hundredths of a second.

A few minutes later, Rutherford was telling newsmen: "It wouldn't hurt my feelings a bit if they slowed these cars down 20 miles an hour, or even more. We're going too fast for close competition."

The first weekend of qualifying for the world's richest auto race—the 1972 payoff exceeded $1 million for the second straight year—saw 30 drivers make the lineup, leaving only three spots to be filled in final runs next Saturday and Sunday.

The 30 qualifiers averaged a sizzling 192.572 m.p.h.—almost nine miles per hour faster than last year—and forecast a minimum speed of almost 190 even to make the field.

The weekend thus was a mixture of blazing speed, so high that even Rutherford was somewhat troubled, and tragedy.

Art Pollard, a 17-year veteran and one of the best liked drivers in racing, was killed in a searing, grinding crash of his Cobre-Eagle during a warmup session that preceded Saturday's initial qualifying runs.

Pollard, who had celebrated his 46th birthday in the garage area exactly a week before his death, was the 35th driver to lose his life at the nation's oldest racing facility.

Pacers Win ABA Crown

LOUISVILLE (AP) — George McGinnis, who won the most valuable player award after the Indiana Pacers won the American Basketball Association championship, says he was proud of the whole team.

"I'm proud of everybody," said McGinnis. "This was a team victory, not just one man. I played for (Donnie) Freeman and Gus Johnson and guys like that (ones who have never been on a championship team)."

Although McGinnis said it was a team effort, he practically beat the Kentucky Colonels himself, scoring 27 points and hauling down seven rebounds to lead his team to an 88-81 victory over Kentucky Saturday at Louisville's Freedom Hall.

It was the second ABA championship in a row for the Pacers and their third in the last four years.

Davis Cup Tennis Team Returns Victorious

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The U.S. Davis Cup tennis team will return home from its 4-1 victory over Mexico in the North American Zone final optimistic about its chances to beat Chile—and happy about the prospect of playing on its own courts for the first time in 2½ years.

Erik Van Dillen, 22, of San Mateo, Calif., who with Tom Gorman won the doubles match of the series Saturday against Raul Ramirez and Vicente Zazazua, said he thought the team's possibilities of defeating the South American Zone finalist were "very good."

Judy Rankin Victor In Lady Carling Open

BALTIMORE (AP) — Judy Rankin had to overcome a couple of tough obstacles to post a four-stroke victory in this year's $30,000 Lady Carling Open golf tournament.

Not only did she have to contend with the tricky greens at the municipal Pine Ridge Course while posting an evenpar 73 Sunday for a 54-hole total of 215, but there was also the matter of only five hours sleep the night before.

Tigers, Vikings Meet In Finals

Circleville and Teays Valley will meet 2 p.m. Wednesday on Diamond No. 1 at Newark in the AA sectional finals. The winner will return to Newark Friday in the AA District competition.

Tiger Reserves Divide Tilts With Panthers

Circleville's reserve baseball squad took the first game, 5-4, but dropped the second contest, 12-8, in a twinbill with Miami Trace Saturday on the Tigers' field.

Mike Speakman hurled the win in the opener for the Red and Black. He gave up two hits, walked six and struckout 11.

Pat McNaughton paced the Tigers' attack with a double and two singles, Phil Roll added a pair of one baggers and Tim McNaughton and Jeff See each slashed a single.

The Tigers scored a single run in the bottom of the first and erupted for four more in the third to win the fray. Trace tallied one in the top of the first and three in the seventh.

Randy Thomas and Phil Roll handled the mound chores for Circleville in the nightcap. They gave up eight hits, 12 walks and fanned 11.

Thomas paced the Circleville plate attack with a triple and single, Roll smashed a double and single while Mace, Hoffman and Wolfe each ripped a single in the losing cause.

Trace tallied six times in the top of the seventh to grab the contest. The Tigers battled back with three in the bottom of the seventh but the rally fell short.

Coach Tom Cole's reserves are now 7-1 for the season and will be at Greenfield Thursday.

Ohio Wesleyan Wins Tennis Championship

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Wesleyan University tennis players captured four of the six singles events to dominate the Ohio Conference tennis championship over the weekend.

The meet ran an extra day because two doubles matches were washed out by rain Saturday.

Brewers Win, Lead Division

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's something besides beer brewing in Milwaukee ... and it's giving the town's baseball fans that old gemütlichkeit feeling.

Freely translated, gemütlichkeit means joie de vivre. If you insist on English it's that warm feeling inside that comes from good companionship ... and a first-place baseball team.

The good burghers of Milwaukee knew the feeling well when the Braves were winning National League pennants back in the late 1950s before they marched to Atlanta.

Now it's the Milwaukee Brewers atop the American League East by one full game following Sunday's 6-5 victory over Detroit on Dave May's 10th-inning home run, his second of the game.

Elsewhere, Baltimore and New York inched into second place by splitting a double header, the Yankees taking the opener 4-0 and the Orioles rallying to pull out the nightcap 9-6. In other games, Boston trounced Cleveland 8-3, California blanked the Chicago White Sox 3-0, Minnesota downed Kansas City 5-0 and Texas turned back Oakland 7-2.

The Brewers trailed Detroit 3-1 but scored three times in the fifth inning on a single by Gorman Thomas, Tim Johnson's triple, Don Money's sacrifice fly and May's first home run, his eighth of the season. Detroit's Gates Brown tied it with a homer and both teams scored in the ninth before May broke it up and also took over the AL home run lead.

The Yankees used home runs by Bobby Murcer, Roy White, Ron Blomberg and Graig Nettles and the eight-hit pitching of Mel Stottlemyre and Sparky Lyle to win their opener from Baltimore. But the Orioles wiped out a 5-2 deficit with four runs in the fifth inning of the nightcap, highlighted by Larry Brown's two-run homer.

Boston's Tommy Harper capped a five-run sixth inning with the first grand slam of his 11-year career — "The first grand slam for me

Atomic Starts With Bang

Racing started in style at Atomic Speedway, south of Chillicothe last Saturday evening, as the new season saw the track record qualifying time for sprint cars broken by Rick Ferkel, Tiffin, Ohio, with a clocking of 15.26 seconds for the 3-8 mile track.

The first heat was won by Ferkel, but it proved to be a costly victory as his car was forced to withdraw from the feature due to mechanical problems. The second heat was won by Joe Frazier. The 25 lap feature was won by Larry McPeak, followed closely by Sam Erwin, and Frazier. 11 sprint cars in all raced in this program.

Perhaps the best racing of the evening came in the late models, when Bobby Oney a former Jackson, Ohio, resident, now residing in Columbus, who finished second to Sam Erwin in the second heat, ran away from the field, to win the 25 lap late model feature race.

Oney drove a 390 Fairlane. Second place went to Skip Waterman, third to Paul Cayan, also of Jackson, and fourth to Ron Dolan. For Oney it was his third win in four tries this season. Joe Teeters driving the Dick Watts special of Jackson, won the other heat race. In all 24 cars raced in late models.

John Park who could finish no higher than fifth in the Hobby Stock heat, won the fifteen lap Hobby Feature, easily outdistancing Estil Scarberry, and Jim Martin. Martin of Hamden, won the hobby stock heat, Scarberry finished second.

Viking Nine Splits Pair With Olentangy

Teays Valley gained a split with Olentangy in a pair of Metropolitan League make-up games Saturday on the Braves' diamond.

Olentangy was the home team in the opener with Teays Valley batting last in the nightcap. The Vikings took the first game, 7-5, but dropped the second contest, 11-6.

Keith Pettibone hurled 3 2-3 innings in the opener with Jerry Sabine coming on in relief to finish up. Pettibone gave up four hits, walked four and fanned three while Sabine allowed three safeties, two walks and struckout three.

Martie Crosbie and Mike Rannebauger shared mound duties for Olentangy. They allowed seven hits, walked eight and whiffed 12.

Chuck Glitt paced the Vikings with two doubles, Terry Southers and Bruce Haines each cracked a two-bagger while Dave Chaffin, Jim Pabst and Sabine had a single apiece.

The Vikings tallied one-run in the top of the first, added a single marker in the third, tallied twice in the fourth and fifth and capped the scoring with a lone run in the sixth. Olentangy scored four markers in the bottom of the fourth and a single run in the seventh.

Dave Chaffin and Keith Pettibone were on the hill for the Vikings in the nightcap. They gave up nine hits, walked six and fanned seven. Robin Roll went all the way for the Braves to gain the win. He allowed eight hits, walked nine and struckout eight.

Olentangy tallied one-run in the top of the first, three more in the third, two in the fifth, four in the sixth and one in the seventh. Teays Valley scored a pair of runs in the third, fifth and sixth innings.

Disputed Homer Gives Win

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston mail carrier Craig Conerly didn't realize when he bought bleacher seats for himself and his wife that they'd have the best seats in the Astrodome.

That's how it turned out when a controversial home run by Cincinnati's Bobby Tolan landed in Conerly's lap in what broke up a scoreless game and proved to be the crushing blow in a 2-0 shutout of Houston Astros Sunday.

Most of the fans sitting around Conerly thought the high fly was foul, spontaneously pointing to the foul side of rightfield. Conerly said it was fair, and more importantly, so did first base umpire Augie Donatelli, who ruled the ball curved around a screen in fair territory before falling out of bounds to Conerly.

Tolan's homer came in the fourth inning and broke up a scoreless pitching duel between the Reds' Jack Billingham and Houston's Ken Forsch.

"That's about the worst call I've ever seen in baseball," fumed Astro Manager Leo Durocher, who charged Donatelli like a mad bull. "I told him he was blind and he should have stayed retired. We could see it from the bench. Augie said the ball went around the screen."

A screen about two yards wide follows the inbounds line in rightfield straight up to the Astrodome ceiling to help umpires rule on fly balls.

Houston catcher John Edwards also ran for Donatelli after his call. "I couldn't believe he called it fair," Edwards said. "He said it curved around the screen but it didn't hook that much. It wasn't that type of ball. It was just real high."

Tolan sidestepped giving his opinion. "I followed it and I still don't know," Tolan said. "But he Donatelli pointed it fair and I'll take it. It might be the last homer I get this season."

The controversy almost overshadowed an outstanding pitching performance by Billingham, who held his former teammates to four hits improve his record to 6-1.

Reds second baseman Joe Morgan, suffering from a knee injury, talked himself into the lineup and collected three singles.

Morgan scored Cincinnati's second run in the eighth when he walked, stole second and went to third on a throwing error by catcher Larry Howard on the pickoff attempt, and then scored on a wild pitch by Jim Crawford.

Following all the controversy, Conerly mused that Tolan might like to have the ball back.

It probably would be much more valuable to Ken Forsch.

Braves And Padres Split

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

On a day when tennis hustler Bobby Riggs struck a blow for the elderly men of America, baseball slugger Hank Aaron struck two blows for them.

Aaron, 39, is a kid compared to Riggs, 55. But he's in a daily battle with time and history, and, like Riggs, he won Sunday's showdown easily.

Aaron slugged a pair of home runs, one in each game, as the Atlanta Braves split a doubleheader with San Diego. The Braves wasted his two-run pinch homer in the ninth inning of the opener, losing 6-4. But his 10th homer of the season and No. 683 of his career helped Atlanta take the second game 6-2.

Fred Norman. His two homers raised his batting average for May to a youthful .405 on 15-for-37, five of the hits homers. The hot streak has lifted his average for the season from .125 to .237.

Jim Beauchamp drove in four runs with a pair of singles, leading New York to its third straight victory over Pittsburgh as the Pirates dropped their fifth straight.

Jack Billingham shut out Houston on four hits as the Reds blanked the Astros. Cincinnati's first run came on a disputed homer by Bobby Tolan with the Astros arguing that the ball was foul and first base umpire Augie Donatelli insisting it was fair.

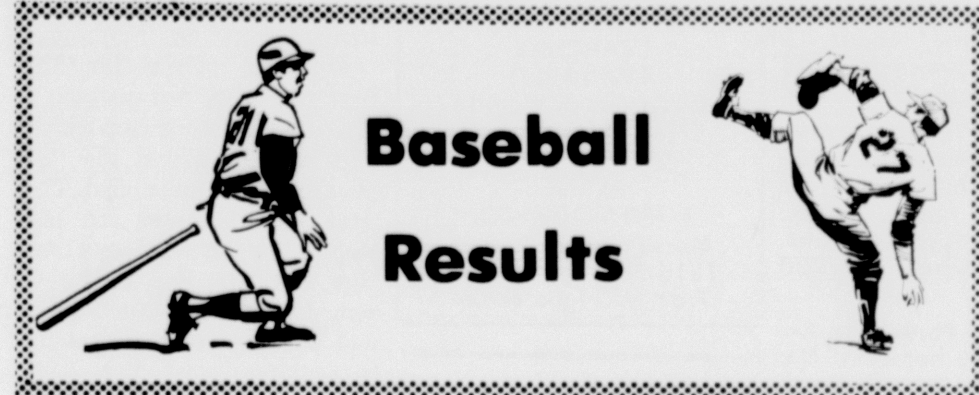

Los Angeles erupted for nine runs and half of its 18 hits in the fourth inning to wipe out the Giants. Joe Ferguson had a three-run homer and Dave Lopes knocked in three runs with a homer and a single in the big inning for the Dodgers.

Chicago extended its winning streak to six games, sweeping two games from the Phillies.

Fergie Jenkins took the opener, in a showdown of Cy Young winners, besting Steve Carlton. Jose Cardenal and Rick Monday drilled a pair of two-run homers to ease the Cubs to their second game victory.

Bernie Carbo's bases-loaded, two-out single, delivered two runs and climaxed a three-run St. Louis rally in the eighth inning as the Cardinals overtook Montreal.

Mustang Rally Stops Eagles, 5-1

Westfall tallied four runs in the top of the seventh inning to down Madison Plains, 5-1, Saturday on the latter's diamond.

Rick Kennedy scattered four hits, issued two walks and struckout four to gain the win for the Mustangs.

Greene and Forrest shared mound duties for Madison Plains. They gave up six hits, walked three and fanned 13.

Glen Baurer slammed a double for the Mustangs while Ted Musselman, Mike Peterson, Dave Shannon, Larry Adams and Kennedy each had a single.

Madison Plains opened the scoring with a single marker in the bottom of the fourth. Westfall knotted the count with a run in the fifth and capped the scoring with a four run outburst in the top of the seventh.

Westfall's reserves squad was nipped by the Madison Plains junior varsity, 7-6.

Bill (Moose) Skowron hit .385 for the Los Angeles Dodgers when they swept the four-game 1963 World Series against the New York Yankees. Skowron now lives in Ocala, Fla., and sells real estate for the Deltona Corporation.

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when you are pressured into producing some worthwhile results. First, get the goodwill and active assistance of important associates for your own judgment is not good at this time. Quietly gain the information you need.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Start thinking how to handle those important responsibilities you have. Avoid a friend who complains. Use your intuition in handling a romantic situation. The evening can be a happy one.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't go off on any tangent, but cooperate fully with an associate instead. It may be difficult to reconcile with one who opposes you, but a gentle manner will be helpful.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't waste time on a peculiar scheme but keep busy on important work you have to do. Don't quickly accept the views of others, but doublecheck with facts and figures. Keep calm.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you engage in recreations you enjoy, this can be a happy day for you, but be sure not to be too extravagant. Put your finest talents to work, but don't over-talk others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Put your efforts into improving the conditions at home and be tactful with everyone. Avoid an associate who is not acting right at this time. Eliminate tensions at home. Show wisdom.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Be cheerful in handling routine affairs. Put aside unimportant duties that are dull and can be done later. A perplexing letter can prove to be important and bring in benefits.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) The planets are favorable for monetary affairs so be sure to handle business matters early in the day. Postpone recreation to the evening. Show that you are a practical person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Concentrate on making yourself more charming today. Don't engage in any arguments, especially at home. Use good judgment in an honest dispute with an associate. Take it easy tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Solve problems of an intimate nature wisely by first consulting with an expert. Don't confide in others. Be better prepared for a trip you want to take. Learn to be thrifty.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Listening to what friends have to say will be better for you today than going to some expert. A new method employed now can help you achieve your personal goals. Think cleverly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Engage in a civic affair of importance at which you are very adept. Forget personal recreations for the time being. You can easily make the future more profitable if you wish.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have fine ideas to put in operation which can help you to advance more quickly in the future. Don't fret over what cannot be helped. Get the approval of a higher-up. Think objectively.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those interesting young people with fine character and will tolerate little interference where gaining own aims are concerned. Give religious training early in life so that this strong personality will be focused on being of great benefit to the world at large. Discipline should be in the form of right guidance. Sports are good here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, hyphens and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Today brings good news. Dizzy Dean, the distinguished baseball analyst and despair of grammarians, is going to help cover NBC-TV's "Monday Night Baseball" opener on May 21.

Dean, who with Pee Wee Reese broadcast CBS' "Game of the Week" until 1965, was asked if he's nervous about speaking into the NBC microphone next Monday night.

"Naw," he said. "All I gotta watch is fellas slidin', walkin', throwin' and hittin'."

He discussed these matters in a phone interview from his farm in Wiggins, Miss., where he now ruminates, rusticates, fishes and sallies forth in the summer to golf and broadcast a few games.

At 62, the former pride of the St. Louis Cardinals remains one of the best interviews of the Western world.

Here is Dean, for example, on television's increasingly statistical approach to baseball:

"I don't like to sit there and listen to somebody read statistics and say, 'Here comes a pitcher who's 210 pounds, 6 foot 3 and his earned run average is 3.92.'"

"The average fan don't know what he's talkin' about."

Does Dean think televised games have gotten too dull? "Yeah, they're dull," he said. "There's no question about that. I hear it all the time ..."

"See, today we don't have enough baseball games with color and variety on the show. Now I give everybody credit for reportin' ball games, but they gotta put something in it."

Force Cut Talks Enter New Phase; Said Significant

VIENNA (AP)— The East-West talks to arrange for negotiations on a reduction of armed forces in central Europe opened here today with a nine-minute meeting.

The first gathering dealt only with organizational details such as the seating order. Delegates agreed to meet again Tuesday.

The Russians have for the first time publicly termed the meetings of "great importance" and "great significance," raising hopes they might be resolved to negotiate seriously on the balanced troop reductions desired by the United States.

The 19 nations were still months away at least from getting down to talking about how many of which nation's troops might be pulled back. There were hopes that such substantive negotiations could begin in the fall. But it has taken 14 weeks of wrangling to decide whether Hungary should participate in the conference as a full member or just as an observer.

The United States finally forced Britain and its other allies to yield to the Soviet demand that Hungary get observer status only. The British contended that this in effect removed the 40,000-man Soviet garrison in Hungary from the forces that would be subject to reduction.

The 19 nations now move on to such procedural matters as the agenda and rules of procedure for the future negotiations and a Soviet proposal for the inclusion of neutral nations.

The Vienna talks are a companion to similar exploratory talks in Helsinki, Finland, at which 34 nations are laying the groundwork for a conference on European security. The Russians have been seeking such a conference for several years, while the United States and its allies demanded the negotiations on reduction of forces as their price for participation in the security talks.

Moscow displayed a more sympathetic public attitude to the idea of force cuts during the weekend with a report in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, that Soviet party chief Leonid Brezhnev and Polish leaders agreed during Brezhnev's visit to Poland Friday on the "great importance" of the Vienna talks. Today the Soviet military commander of the Warsaw Pact, the Communist equivalent of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, said in an interview that East-West reduction of forces was of "great significance."

Brezhnev in a still-unpublished policy review two weeks ago reportedly told the central committee of the Soviet Communist party that relations between Moscow and its European satellites permit the withdrawal of some Soviet troops. He attributed this to NATO's failure to challenge the 1968 Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Brezhnev told the committee that reduction of Soviet forces in Central Europe would free large funds for use on economic projects.

HEADON — Three teenage Columbus girls were transferred from Berger Hospital to Columbus hospitals Saturday for treatment of injuries suffered in a headon crash with a bridge on St. Paul Rd., west of the Circleville-Groveport Road. A fourth girl was treated and released.

Crash Into Bridge Injures Four Girls

Three teenage Columbus girls were seriously hurt 11:20 a.m. Saturday when their car crashed headon into a steel bridge on St. Paul Rd. west of the Circleville-Groveport Rd.

Marianne Vogel, 16, driver of the car, suffered a fractured jaw and collar bone and possible internal injuries. Rhonda Lynne Howell, 15, suffered a concussion, fractured right thumb, and injuries to her left knee and thigh. Vickie Gray, 14, suffered a concussion, laceration to her head and possible severe head injuries.

Miss Howell and Miss Gray were transferred from Berger Hospital to Mt. Carmel, West, Hospital, Columbus. Miss Vogel was transferred to University Hospital.

A fourth girl, Karen Ann Jones, 13, was treated and released at Berger Hospital for head and scalp lacerations and right shoulder injuries.

According to Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover, Miss Vogel was driving east on St. Paul Road when she lost control of her car and skidded 102 feet into the bridge. Impact spun the car around.

A 30-foot section of the bridge was destroyed and it is closed to traffic until repairs can be completed.

Both drivers said they were left of center in a two car sideswipe accident on a Circleville-Kingston Road hill crest 2:40 p.m. Saturday, according to Deputy Hoover.

Charlene Smith, 26, Route 2, Amanda, told the deputy she was driving north on the road when she glanced in her mirror and went left of center. Homer Hines, other driver involved, said he was left of center, driving south.

Impact forced the Smith car into the right ditch. She was given first aid by Deputy Hoover for right arm and knee injuries.

Three local boys were hurt 10:15 p.m. Sunday when Wesley Riley, 16, 1014 S. Court St., lost control of his car on Stout Road, east of Route 188.

Deputy Lowell Ferguson said Riley had just crested a hill when the car turned to the right into a bank. The car rolled end over end 117 feet and came to rest on its side.

Riley was treated for contusions and abrasions to his right leg and left hand. Mark Hoffman, 16, 621 Garden Parkway, was treated for shoulder injuries, and Paul Combs, 16, 1201 S. Court St., was treated for right thigh contusions.

Darlene Lambert, 14, Route 3, passenger in a car driven by Barry A. Brayshaw, 18, Williamsport, suffered a bump on her head when Brayshaw's vehicle was hit in the rear by a car driven by Douglas Betts, 16, Williamsport.

Deputy Bill Huffman said the accident occurred 9 p.m. Sunday on N. Water St., Williamsport.

Weekend Traffic Claims 14 Lives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio's weekend traffic toll reached 14 Sunday night.

Three of those were killed in one accident in Defiance County Saturday. The period started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at Midnight Sunday.

The fatalities included:

Gold $100 Per Ounce

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold reached $100 an ounce in early trading today on Europe's free bullion markets, and the U.S. dollar dropped.

Gold hit the $100 level shortly after the opening of the markets in both London and Zurich, the world's two biggest bullion markets. That was more than double the cost of the metal a year ago.

Dealers in Zurich said there was an "explosive" character to trading there with unconfirmed rumors of big buying orders coming in from the Middle East.

Both South Africa and the Soviet Union, the two largest producers of gold, are withholding fresh supplies of the metal from the market, adding to the upward pressure on the price.

Gold was traded in Zurich in a range of $99.50-$100.50 briefly, then eased slightly to $99-$100.

Two TV Students 'Sprint' To Finish MOD Walkathon

Bob Chaney and Lewis Neal "sprinted" the last six miles to be the first to return to the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Saturday afternoon in the March of Dimes Walkathon.

Chaney and Neal, both Teays Valley High School students, finished the 20-mile journey at 1:10 p.m., about 4 hours after their 8:30 a.m. start.

They were 20 minutes ahead of the next finishers. Both were in a group of 10 people who finished first last year.

At 2 p.m., the first girls to finish the race reached the fairgrounds. They were Karen Gifford and Robin Manson of the George McDowell Exchange School.

The exchange school had the largest number of entrants in the walk to raise money for the March of Dimes with 64 walkers. They are also expected to earn the most money for their pledges.

Stacy Bowman, also of the exchange school, earned a total of $265 for the 20 miles, or about $13.25 per mile to lead all walkers. The walk is expected to raise about $4,500.

Those assisting with the walkathon were react and rescue, react and rescue auxiliary, Red Cross units, Sheriff's auxiliary, senior citizens and Circleville Kiwanis Club.

Arson Wave Apparently Over In West Virginia Town

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — After a quiet, almost fireless weekend, officials of this Ohio River community say they hope the rash of night blazes that has plagued the town has ended.

"We hope it stays like it is now," said Mayor Harry Zohn, "though we realize that something could happen at any time. We're taking every possible precaution and not letting up our guard."

The town of 7,000 was hit by 23 blazes in a four-day period last week, and officials believe all were the work of an arsonist.

Zohn, Assistant West Virginia Fire Marshal E. L. Roush, and Wetzel County Prosecutor Michael S. Frances kept exhausting all-night vigils throughout the weekend, waiting for the telltale signs of smoke.

The only weekend fire was reported near daybreak Saturday.

Roush could not say why the fires stopped but indicated the vigils would continue.

"I've got a job I'd like to go to in the morning," Zohn said. "But we're all staying up."

Officials have stationed the town's four pieces of fire-fighting equipment at key positions, and unmarked police cars quietly patrol the city. The volunteer fire department has less than three dozen members.

The fires, most of them minor, have hit commercial establishments in the town. The most serious blaze destroyed a vacant storeroom and two apartments.

Officials said 17 fires were reported Tuesday night, followed by three Wednesday, two Thursday and one Saturday.

Zohn said the investigation into the fires is continuing but that no definite leads have been uncovered.

Some observers believe the fires are in retaliation for last week's grand jury indictment and subsequent arrest of 10 persons on drug charges.

BUDGETING CAN BE BEAUTIFUL!

Rising food prices make meal planning difficult for all of us. How to serve a tasty, nutritious meal while staying within your budget? We offer this menu... featuring good buys at Kroger this week... as a suggestion for a thrifty, well-balanced meal.

Chicken Halves Broiled in Rosemary Butter
Steamed Green Beans
Golden Corn-on-the-Cob
Fresh Fruit Medley Cookies
Iced Tea or Coffee

ROSEMARY BUTTER: Add 1/4 teaspoon dried rosemary to 1/4 pound (1 stick) melted butter or margarine. Let stand for about 15 minutes. Before broiling, brush chicken with seasoned butter. Use remaining butter to baste while cooking, brushing chicken on all sides several times.

FRESH FRUIT MEDLEY: Wash and prepare fruit, removing pits, skins and stems. Where needed, cut into bite-size pieces. Chill. When ready to serve, drain fruit and combine with just enough lemon-flavored yogurt to coat well. Fruits may include peaches, berries, grapes, cherries, bananas, citrus, etc., to your taste.

WE HEAR YOU . . . and we're trying to help!

GOOD NUTRITION IS A THRIFTY BEAUTY TREATMENT!

Get to know the Key Nutrients . . . and the many foods that contain them. The information CAN save you money . . . without sacrificing your family's nutritional needs.

Vitamin A is a Key Nutrient. It is the vitamin that prevents night blindness . . . helps eyes to adjust to dim light after exposure to bright light. Vitamin A helps keep your skin smooth . . . the lining of your mouth, nose and throat healthy and resistant to infection . . . and promotes growth.

PRIME SOURCES OF VITAMIN A ARE: dark green and deep-yellow vegetables and a few fruits, namely apricots, broccoli, cantaloupe, carrots, chard, collards, cress, kale, mango, persimmons, pumpkin, spinach, sweet potatoes, turnip greens and other dark-green leaves, and winter squash.

VITAMIN A IS ALSO FOUND IN liver, butter, and fortified margarine.

A delicious blend of 75% fresh beef and 25% hydrated vegetable protein! A totally new food product that LOOKS... COOKS... AND TASTES LIKE GROUND BEEF—yet is juicier and cooks with less fry-away! Here's what "Burger-Pro" offers you...

GOOD NUTRITION
Kroger "Burger-Pro" has as much protein per pound as regular ground beef. It simply is fresh beef plus textured vegetable protein.

GOOD TASTE
Kroger "Burger-Pro" looks... cooks... and tastes like fresh ground beef. Adapts to all the many ways you serve ground beef... in patties, meat balls, in spaghetti sauce, meat loaf, chili or in casserole dishes. Your recipes will look, cook and taste like you expect them to look, cook and taste. Possibly better... because Kroger "Burger-Pro" is even juicier than regular ground beef.

TREMENDOUS ECONOMY
Kroger "Burger-Pro" stretches your food dollar with a higher yield of nourishing food per pound! There's less fry-away.

Try Kroger "Burger-Pro" this week! You'll be delighted with it... and Kroger's Lightning Low Discount Price!
